GAME FARM, HUNTING PRESERVE OPENS SEASON SEPT. 1

After a successful first year, Indian Lake's 3,700-acre game farm and hunting preserve located directly across from the main Route 160 entrance is set to launch another season with opening day September 1.

Ideal conditions and plenty of game . . . that's what members of the club enjoyed the most last year all season long as they had nothing but words of praise for the facilities and abundance of game.

Paul Wagner, membership chairman, said things should be even better this year. According to Paul, "We've planted acres and acres of crops and have been raising our own birds since April. We're also going to buy more birds. But with all these improvements, we could sure use more members."

Other improvements made during the off-season include cutting more trails through the woods and the purchase of more hunting dogs.

In addition to ideal conditions and plenty of game, members of Indian Lake's game farm and hunting preserve enjoy the added benefits of a 2-mile natural trout stream, four trap and skeet fields, and indoor and outdoor rifle pistol ranges. They also shoot trap and skeet at the special low price of only $1 per round. There's also a 15% discount on most purchases made through the gun shop.

Annual membership in the game farm and hunting preserve is only $150 a year, with a $150 initiation fee. Memberships are limited, but with the acquisition of more acreage late last year, more memberships are now available.

Join the game farm and hunting preserve now and you'll be in for a great season that opens September 1. Write or call Indian Lake Shooting Park today.

Wagner Memorial & Club Championship

CMAR WINS TWO BIG GOLF TITLES

Francis Cmar of Latrobe earned the honor of top golfer of the year at Indian Lake by capturing titles in two of the biggest and most coveted tournaments played here, the K. H. Wagner Memorial Golf Tournament and the Club Championship.

The back-to-back wins for Cmar ran his total of Indian Lake golf championships to four since becoming a property owner in 1966. He won the club championship in 1967, and last year he took the top prize in the Memorial Day Golf Classic.

This year's club championship started out as a wide open tournament. Jack Butler, who was medalist with an opening round 79, was unable to play the final round due to two separate accidents involving members of his family. Defending champion Joe Parker failed to qualify, and Cmar probably wished he hadn't either as he ballooned to an opening round 80 playing in the rain and was bunched in with Larry Holman, 81; John Changle, Jr., and Warren Phenecie, 83; John Legath and Dan Swank, 84. Nobody could mount any kind of a charge for the title and Cmar coasted in with a final round five-over-par 77 for a 36-hole total of 157 to win the championship. John Changle, Jr., finished second, eight strokes off the pace, with rounds of 83-82 for a 165.

PRIVATE PILOT GROUND SCHOOL BEGINNING SEPT. 27 TO FEATURE INSTRUCTION IN NEW FLIGHT TRAINER

A six-week private pilot ground school, featuring up to three hours of instruction in the new flight trainer by Link, will be held for persons 16 years of age and older at Indian Lake Air-Park beginning September 27 and continuing through November 1. Classes will be held on Saturday mornings from 11 o'clock to 12:30 p.m.

The ground school classes are designed to prepare students for the Federal Aviation Administration's written examination for a private pilot rating. Except for time spent in the flight trainer, which is designed to teach flying skills without leaving the ground, the classes are separate from actual flight instruction.

Class material is organized in six sections and begins with a preview of the aviation field and ends with the Federal Aviation Administration regulations.

Wagner Memorial Golf Tournament, which was played under full handicap, Francis Cmar rolled in 12-foot putt for a birdie four on No. 18 and finished with a one-under par 71 for a net 68 and a one-stroke victory over defending champion Dave Watson of Pittsburgh who had 77 (8) and a net 69.

REGISTER FOR PASS

The mandatory season-pass has become the most widely accepted plan ever introduced to lot owners for unlimited family recreational privileges at Indian Lake. In order to make the all-inclusive privilege available to more lot owners, the registration period has been extended to November 1.

Overwhelming acceptance of the plan is due mainly to the fixed-in-cost feature that is based on the Consumer Price Index published by the U. S. Department of Labor. This feature is considered by lot owners to be most equitable. It means that the mandatory plan is tied in with the cost of living and the fee could remain the same indefinitely, or be adjusted up or down, depending on living costs.

Right now the cost of a mandatory season-pass is $200. The fee must be paid every year.

Lot owners with a mandatory season-pass have unlimited family privileges for the ski slopes, swimming pool, ice skating pond, tennis court, 9-hole golf course, and the Arnold Palmer championship golf course where only fairway lot owners and mandatory season-pass holders are permitted to play, along with their registered guests.

A Picturesque, But Tough Golf Hole

Kenneth W. Wilson of Pittsburgh, and Fairway Lot 19 prepares to tee off on the picturesque and challenging 160-yard, par 3, 15th hole of the Arnold Palmer golf course on the peninsula. Ken's wife Elinor is standing off to the right. The tee shot on this beautiful golf hole must be all carry as there is very little fairway between the breast of the man-made lake and the huge green, which is slightly uphill and hemmed in by tall trees.

More than 400 rounds of golf have been played on the back nine holes of the Arnold Palmer golf course since it was made available a month ago on a preview basis for only the fairway lot owners and mandatory season-pass holders.

There is still plenty of finishing work to be done on the back nine, but the general comments from those who have played are highly favorable. There's no question in anyone's mind about it being a championship golf course, and everyone is looking forward to the day when all 18 holes are completed and the course officially open.

The special arrangements of allowing only the fairway lot owners and mandatory season-pass holders to play the course has been received quite well. Non-fairway lot owners are signing up at the rate of about 10 a week. Anyone interested in signing up for the permanent privileges, which includes the Arnold Palmer golf course, has until November 1 to do so. Register at the real estate sales office in the Air-Park building.

Great Year For Woman Golfers

Social Schedule

Mrs. Pauline McKearin (left) of Wilmington, Delaware, and Indian Lake receives an award from Stella DePollo of Windber for placing among the top golfers in the second of two invitational golf tournaments played here and sponsored by the Women's Golf Association of Indian Lake. Mrs. Jo Ann Booth of Berlin is shown at right holding the scoreboard.

The first tournament was played July 17 with approximately 55 women from Bedford, Windber and Indian Lake participating. In the tournament played August 7, women from Somerset, Windber, Middlecreek, Piney Run, Seven Springs and Indian Lake teed off in pursuit of various labels.

Prizes were awarded in both tournaments for low gross, low net, fewest putts, closest to the pin and longest drive.

In the club championship for Indian Lake, Barbara Phenecie of Windber won her third straight title by edging out Winnie Coleman of Shanksville. Jo Ann Booth captured the first flight and Dorothy DeVilling of Pittsburgh won second flight.
